

Vision vs. Reality on the Path to Digital Transformation

Results based on a global survey of 630 IT decision-makers conducted by Vanson Bourne in April 2016

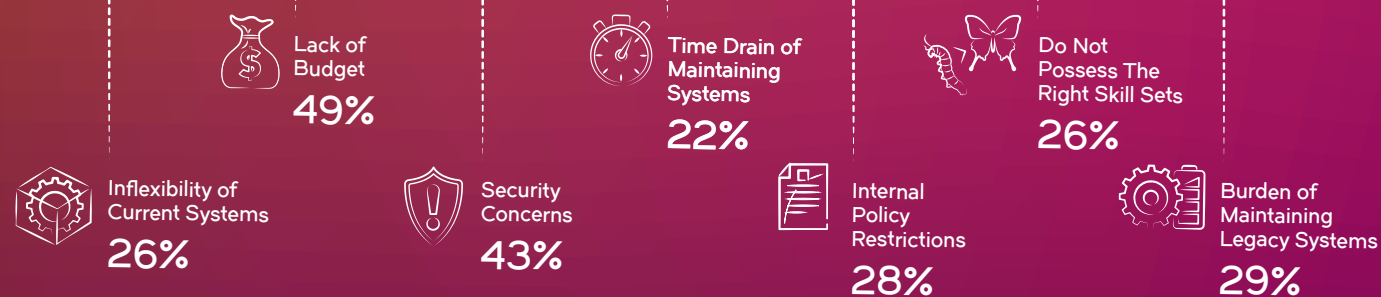

Leadership's VISION

IT's REALITY

But IT is held back by:

Business leaders are embracing the digital transformation as a critical factor for success, and they expect IT to help them:

- Innovate faster to gain new opportunities and revenue
- Operate more efficiently to reduce costs
- Compete more effectively with breakthrough products and services

Download the report to learn more about the gap between company vision and legacy IT constraints. See why implementing New IP network architectures that are software-centric, open, and agile can help you make your own vision for digital transformation a reality. Visit www.brocade.com.